Canadian Wheat for India Via Victoria

Strike of mainland grain workers will not hinder wheat movement through the elevator at Ogden Point, according to a spokesman for Grain Elevator Workers' Union (CIO) in Vancouver. As first wheat in 11 years poured into Mv. Trelyon today, the union stated that it would not declare grain shipped from Vancouver to Victoria as "not." Wheat now moving here was scheduled for Ogden Point before the strike, and Victoria's elevator is expected to handle up to 6,000,000 bushels a year. Trelyon is bound for Calcutta with full cargo.

Saskatchewan Insurance Agent Says Fines Got Commissions

REGINA (CP) — A categorical denial of charges contained in an affidavit sworn by Joseph Rawluk, former government insurance office agent, was made in the legislature committee on crown corporations Tuesday night by Provincial Treasurer Fines and general manager M. F. Allore of the Saskatchewan government insurance office.

The affidavit alleged that Mr. Fines and Mr. Allore had been paid a share of the commissions on business Mr. Allore directed through Mr. Rawluk's firm, Financial Agencies Ltd.

Mr. Fines asked the committee to swear him in as a witness "in order to clear myself of the charges." He branded the affidavit as "a frantic fairy tale," adding that it was "absolutely false, a tissue of lies."

Russia Fears Own People, U.S. Charges

Lodge, Gromyko Clash at UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States charged today that Russia's bosses have embarked on a policy of imperialism, not because of any fear of aggression by any other country, but because of fear of their own people.

The chief United States delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., told the UN general assembly that the Soviet Union had lost the respect of the world because of its policy of "violent words and violent deeds."

The assembly broke out into wild applause, and had to be called to order, as Lodge spurned charges by Russia's Andrei Gromyko that the United States was doing everything in its power to prolong the Korean war.

In that connection, Gromyko accused the United States army of atrocities in Korea.

While Assembly President L. B. Pearson of Canada banged the gavel for order, Lodge reminded Gromyko that "the United States army you see to smear is the same United States army which stood beside the Russian army to defeat the German in Europe."

TRAGIC CHANGE

Lodge told Gromyko that "the United States army was good enough for you in 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945. It would be the same today had not the policies of the Soviet government so tragically changed."

Eden told the assembly that it was in nobody's interest that the third world war should break out.

He called for support of the United Nations as a "world meeting place" where opposing forces can get together and try to settle their differences without war.

Eden called on the Communist world to agree to the Indian Korean plan which the assembly adopted last December. This plan would permit Red prisoners who don't want to go home to stay behind. He recalled that the former Soviet foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky, said it was entirely too early to conclude that new Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov has embarked on a more aggressive international policy.

ALWAYS POSSIBLE

They pointed out that the border between Czechoslovakia and Western Germany, where the attack occurred, has been closely controlled by Red and Allied fighter planes for a "long time" with chances of a clash "always possible."

Informants said the department moved fast to head off any Red claims that the incident was caused by the American planes crossing the Czech border.

After full investigation, the United States is expected to:

1. Deliver a second protest demanding a Red apology and assurances that the border will be respected in the future.

2. Demand compensation for the U.S. F-84 Thunderjet destroyed by the Red jet fighters. The air force values F-84 jet planes at $200,000 each.

STRANGE MARKINGS

WIESBADEN, Germany, (UP) — An American air force pilot shot down over the U.S. sector of Germany, said today the two Russian-built MiG-15 jet fighters which attacked him had markings "unlike those in any known air force in the world."

Another pilot who escaped the attack agreed.

First Lt. Warren G. Brown, Henderson, Colo., and First Lt. Donald C. Smith, Maryville, Okla., both veterans of the Korean War, were attacked Tuesday by two unidentified jets over the American zone of Germany.

An air force spokesman said today that the pilots saw the markings on the attacking MiGs, but were unable to identify them.

This is perfectly O.K. English. That is, it will be after March 23 if you want to take the word — the slang word — of the latest "Webster's" dictionary, which comes out then. "O.K." is O.K. too. B.C. Luxury Lovers Lose Money for CPR

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ian Warren, Canadian Pacific Railway's general traffic manager, told a Board of Transport Commissioners' hearing here today that one of the reasons for mountain differential rates is that B.C. people prefer sleeping cars to day coaches.

Warren told the hearing that coach passengers bring in more revenue than plus-riding club car customers; a day coach two-thirds full brings the CPR $1,285, while a full sleeping car takes in only $798.

The exchange broke out shortly after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain said that, despite Korea, the world is not yet in the third world war.

In that connection, Gromyko accused the United States army of atrocities in Korea.

Captain, Wife Lost In Atlantic Disaster

HALIFAX (CP) — At least eight persons, including a woman, are missing in the Atlantic following fire and explosion aboard the oil tanker Angy south of Newfoundland.

The Angy was registered out of Monrovia, Liberia, and was operated by a Greek firm. She carried a crew of varied nationalities.

Search and rescue here said today the merchant ship Clairborne took aboard 28 other crew members, but said the captain, his wife, all mates, radio operator and three seamen are still missing.

The message did not say how many mates the Angy carried but officials here said she would probably carry three.

EXPLODED

The Angy caught fire and exploded 350 miles south of Newfoundland three days ago.

The Clairborne was the first rescue vessel to reach her side and took survivors aboard at about 8 a.m. today.

The Clairborne said the forepart of the tanker had broken away and it was believed that the missing men might have been aboard the section.

The Clairborne said she was heading for Cherbourg, France.

Italian Court Refuses Iran Oil to U.K.

VENICE, Italy (CP) — Britain today suffered a setback in her long battle over ownership of Iran's nationalist oil when an Italian court refused to let the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company gain possession of 5,000 tons of Iranian oil brought here by the tanker Mirella.

The Mirella, chartered by a Rome syndicate known as "Supor," arrived here last month from Abadan, Iran, with her precious cargo. She was the second ship to defy a British boycott, clamped on Iranian oil after Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government ousted the British-owned AIOC and nationalized the industry.

Britain contended that the oil is her property until the question of compensation is settled.

Today the Italian court ruled otherwise. The court found that the Supor Company had purchased the oil legally from the Iranian National Oil Company. The tribunal ordered the immediate release of the oil to Supor.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

You listen to a man like Lt.-Col. Eric Pepler talk about modern treatment of prisoners and you contrast the present news with your childhood concept of convicts and the way to handle them.

Maybe you think of them in the eerie and sombre tones of the first few pages of "Great Expectations." Or maybe you bring the comparison closer to home and recall the stories of your elders about practices in Victorian times.

My friend, Toots, who has lived a lot longer in this city than you would think from looking at her, remembers the days when convicts were marched, under guard, from the old Topaz jail to work in Government House grounds.

Her memories, as a young girl, are a little frightening. There's a medieval touch to them—like some of the ideas a few people express on education earlier this month.

With today's accent on rehabilitation, you wonder how accurate were your impressions of men in striped suits, with leg-irons and hammers working on the rock pile? There seems to be an air of unreality about prison spending their time making little ones out of big ones, as the vaudeville comedians used to say.

There doesn't seem to be much value in the rock pile routine these days. Penologists have graduated from that type of thinking—and the rock pile has graduated, too.

Refinement of the Rock Pile

The rock pile today is a refinement reserved for soft-handed office workers who think they're gardeners on the weekend. Allow a gardening office worker his conceit, and he'll make an art of rock placement. He can get so wrapped up in his project that he'll think he has little to learn from the pyramid architects of Egypt. He'll admit no inferiority to the mysterious masons who erected the fabulous rock figures of Easter Island.

Rock work, he'll tell you, is something more than a science. It's a vocation that needs inspiration, that calls for soul, a nice sense of geometric arrangement and a certain flair.

He may even make a study of the craft as it has come down through the pages of history from a time when history had no pages. Hundreds of men in all countries make an absorbing life interest of the subject, though too often they're speculative rather than operative craftsmen.

No so the office worker-gardener. A rock to him is a rock. And his effort will be expended in placing it just so in his particular plot.

In the course of the operation he'll tear all the skin off his knuckles, if the boulder is big enough. He'll break his nails, strain the tendons in his arms and put kinks in his back that will need at least a week's recuperation to cure.

He'll delve into the business of stone work, perhaps, learning all he can about dry-walling as it was, and possibly still is, done by the farmers of Yorkshire, who divide their open spaces into neatly segmented fields with barriers of black cobbles.

Sermons in Stones

He'll develop his own techniques for shifting the big stones that are just too heavy for him to handle. And, with the patience of the agrarian Chinese, he'll contrive means of smuggling them from lofts a block away, if he needs a particular shape for a corner piece. He'll find himself stopping on drives into the country to slip an attractive rock from wild land into his car trunk. It'll become a mania.

He'll never ask for bread if they give him stones. And he'll probably long for leisure to work on the rock pile—which is exactly what society once arranged for people it didn't like.

Members Keep Feet on Ground

LONDON (Reuters) — Sixty members of parliament—30 Conservatives and 30 Socialists—were barred Tuesday night from a flight in a new British jet airliner because of the risk to parliament.

A politician said stoutly: "The trip was canceled because the possibility of 60 by-elections, in case the airliner crashed, was more than could be contemplated."

TCA's Rate Cut Ban Angers Daff Growers

Transport Commission Decision Protested by Saanich Shippers

Saanich daffodil growers today protested to the federal government a decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners in not allowing TCA to lower its air cargo freight rates yet.

Wires of protest have been sent to Agriculture Minister James Gardiner and several members of parliament, G. A. Vanwright Jr., a large grower of daffodils disclosed.

Reduced freight rates announced by Trans Canada Air Lines were scheduled to go into effect this month, Mr. Vanwright said. TCA was to reduce its air cargo rates by about 30 per cent.

However, the Board of Transport Commissioners ruled recently that the new rates could not be applied until the conclusion of a hearing for an application to be reduced.

"The rates haven't come down," he said, "and we are left holding the bag."

William Mattick, another big shipper, said he will lose nearly $2,000 if the freight rates are not reduced within the next week.

"Vancouver Island growers will be soon shipping tons of daffodils to market," he said. "We take action against the people who declared an open sea who tried to murder me." He said police and game wardens also charged law officers permitted a narcotics ring to operate in the Kelowna district.

Surrounded in deep bush country at Woodsdale, 15 miles north of here, 50-year-old George Bowen surrendered to a police posse.

Bowen had been sought for two weeks after a police patrol car was fired upon and a bullet-punctured note posted on a tree near his cabin on the outskirts of Kelowna. The note warned police and game wardens that the trapper had declared "open season."

Bowen dropped his pack and started to run when he sighted the posse Tuesday. At the command to halt, he surrendered, dropping his rifle.

He told police he had planned to head for the United States, although he was traveling north when captured.

Returned to Kelowna, Bowen was charged with shooting with intent.

He called his tree notice a proclamation and in it he charged police with failing to

Poles Release 6 Danish Ships

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Six Danish fishing vessels detained since Sunday at the Polish port of Hela, near Gdansk, Danzig, were released early today.

An official announcement said Tage Kjeller, skipper of one of the ships, radioed that all had been released.

The six ships, with 23 men aboard, were detained when they sheltered at Hela during a storm raging in the Baltic Sea. The detention was announced just after Denmark officially told Poland that a Soviet-built MiG-15 fighter plane landed on Bornholm by a refugee Polish air force pilot would be dismantled and examined by Danish air force experts.

Denmark's foreign minister, Ole Bjorn Kraft, said Tuesday night, however, that there was no evidence of any connection between the two events.

He said the Soviet action violated the UN charter, which forbids members to bring such pressures against the secretary-general.

PROFIT AT TEN-TO-ONECoronation May Gross £15 Million

LONDON (AP)—Britain expects to earn about £15,000,000 from visitors to the Coronation next June—nearly 10 times what the government will spend on the big event.

The British Travel and Holidays Association, sponsored by the government, said today that foreign visitors in 1953 are expected to total a record £800,000—£80,000 more than last year.

They will spend in Britain and in British ships and planes an estimated record of £130,000.

This compares with British earnings from tourism last year of £15,000,000, the previous record.

A spokesman for the association said the added earnings expected this year—£15,000,000—may be attributed almost entirely to the Coronation.

The government said Tuesday it planned to spend £1,573,000 for Coronation expenses. Most of the money will go for the Westminster Abbey ceremony and royal procession and for the entertainment of visiting royalty and other distinguished guests.

Governor To Give Awards To Victoria Scout Heroes

Two Victorians, a scoutmaster and patrol leader, will receive their awards for bravery from the hands of Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace in Vancouver, March 20.

Receiving a certificate of Merit for rescuing a boy who had fallen into a campfire last summer will be Patrol Leader Robert Showers, 2295 Cranmore.

Scoutmaster Alvin Walters, 354 Gorge Road West, will get the Scout Medal of Merit for his organizational work at Ganges.

The presentations will be one of the many activities of the Provincial Scout Association annual meeting at the Vancouver Hotel, March 20 and 21. Special conferences are arranged for district leaders at the Stanley Park Sports Pavilion.

Attending from Victoria will be Commissioner E. A. Estlin; Dr. C. C. Goldring, director of education at Toronto, suggested the Canadian mint should make a souvenir coin for distribution to school children.

Marriage Condition Imposed

SOUTH DARENTH, Eng. (CP)—Canada is the conditional factor in a wedding here.

Mrs. Percy Fowler, a wealthy widow, stipulated that her 19-year-old daughter, Sylvia, could marry Edwin Carpenter, 26-year-old tractor driver—but only if the couple emigrated to Canada.

They decided to abide by the condition. Carpenter, a Briton, has found a farm job paying about $25 a week in Starbuck, Man. He and his bride plan to sail for Canada March 25.

Mrs. Fowler declined to discuss the reasons for insisting that the couple go to Canada.

In August, 1951, Miss Fowler's father collapsed and died after attending a court hearing at which he opposed his daughter's application to marry Carpenter. Earlier Carpenter and members of his family were dismissed from their jobs on Fowler's 400-acre farm.

OTTAWA (CP)—A long-range, 10-year defense construction program is being telescoped into one-third to one-half that time because of Korea and NATO commitments, the Commons defense committee was told Tuesday.

As members swung away from the Currie report and into a study of defense construction, they were told that a major construction program that began in 1950 has cost roughly $400,000,000 so far and is about halfway through.

Approval Of Envoy Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia faced further delay today against a background of increasing tension in U.S.-Communist relations.

Senator Hubert Humphrey (Dem., Minn.) said the shooting down of an American fighter plane by two Russian-made MiG jets in the American zone of Germany emphasized a need for speeding the Russian-speaking Bohlen to Moscow, as urged last week by the state department, to report on and analyze such developments.

WANTS HOIST

The plan of Republican leaders to act on Bohlen's nomination today. But chairman Alexander Wiley (Rep., Wis.) postponed a week Tuesday's scheduled vote by the foreign relations committee. He acted at the request of Senators Homer Ferguson (Rep., Mich.) and William Knowland (Rep., Calif.).

In asking delay on the Bohlen nomination, Ferguson said he wanted to get "certain papers" dealing with the Yalta conference at which Bohlen served as interpreter for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Ferguson, who has condemned the Yalta agreements, wouldn't identify the papers he wants to see. He said the state department "hasn't been able to bring them under control."

At closing time Tuesday the total was 19 pints short of the 250-pint objective.

A 1,000-pint objective has been set for the four days.

$100,000 Fire Hits Business Firms in Ont.

BRUCE MINES, Ont. (CP)—The third major fire in the last five years late Tuesday wiped out three business premises causing damage estimated at more than $100,000.

No one was injured in the two-hour blaze which for a time threatened a business block on the main street of this town 35 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

The fire started in the Bruce Mines Creamery, and within minutes spread to the roof of Bye's Farm Implement Company which was quickly demolished. The fire then spread into H. L. Tritts' Groceria, gutting that structure before it was brought under control.

TORONTO TAX MONEY NOT FOR KID DRIVERS

TORONTO (BUP)—Toronto's high school students are not going to be taught how to drive, at least not on the taxpayers' money.

Dr. C. C. Goldring, board of education director, Tuesday night vetoed a proposal that driving lessons be added to the curriculum. He said it costs too much and would be too time-consuming at the expense of other subjects.

He told the board of education's management committee that it would cost $21,000 a year to give driving lessons to 1,280 students.

John Goss Dies in Britain

VANCOUVER (CP)—Earl D. Haworth, 63-year-old fisherman, charged with the front-porch slaying of James P. Albertson, 44, was committed for trial Tuesday by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson.

Haworth was fatally wounded the night of January 29 on his own doorstep. He died two hours later in hospital.

Haworth claimed it was a revenge slaying because, he said in a statement to police, Albertson had mutilated him and seduced his daughter.

Canada's primary plastics industry reached a production value of nearly $40,000,000 in 1951.

The Right to Criticise

LANDS AND FORESTS MINISTER Robert E. Sommers has shown either transparent immaturity or questionable design in his efforts to taunt the Liberals into voting the Social Credit government out of office on the budget division.

The budget, he said before the vote was taken, is a black and white budget, with no varying shades of grey.

"How can you say," he asked, "if you have any principles at all, that you agree with parts of the budget, but will vote against it, or disagree with parts of it and vote for it? If anybody does that, I brand them as hypocrites."

Mr. Sommers allows himself too much latitude. Who is he to say that any issue is white or black and without varying shades of grey?

He is attempting to establish absolutes where there are no absolutes, as more experience in political life would have shown him.

Either Mr. Sommers, through youth in politics, has said something that is merely foolish, or he has laid down a policy that seeks to stifle criticism.

There are systems of government in other parts of the world which permit no criticism. They are, however, strangers to democracy. Is Mr. Sommers voicing a calculated Social Credit principle when he makes the assertion he did? Or is he merely unacquainted with the rules and practice of the style of government which accepts criticism and which preserves the individual's right to disagree on certain points but to approve an issue as a whole?

Certainly that is the principle to which Liberal members of the house adhere and will continue to adhere as long as they represent the Liberal philosophy.

It might be considered politically expedient for the Social Credit government to bait the Liberal bloc into opposition on a vote of confidence. There is no question of the government's desire along that line in order to seek justification for an election.

On the division Monday night, the Liberals refused the bait. Exercising the balance, they have again sustained the government, having stated their position on certain points of budget policy with which they are not in accord.

Their stand is clear. That of Mr. Sommers is not. Were his remarks the product of inexperience, or does he speak for forces in our public life which do not accept the right to criticise?

Caution to Unions

M. J. STEWART ALSBURY, president of District 1 of the International Woodworkers of America (CCL-CIO), has advised the members of his union, the biggest in B.C., to be reasonable in their new demands and to seek terms benefiting the largest number of people.

That brief note in a press report from Courtenay doubtless conveys the essence of much thought and study of conditions prevailing in the forest industry.

Mr. Alsbury understands the manner in which woodworkers were hurt by strikes last year. He must also recognize the difficulties confronting the industry in the future. He is not unaware of the cost element in the competitive world market. And he has had ample opportunity to consider the inevitable consequences if labor's demands force operators out of business.

Firms operating in British Columbia's forest industry can keep operating only if they can sell their products. If their prices rise too much, they can find no market. Without a market, they cannot justify operations. When they close down, men are out of work.

In addition to the personal difficulties unemployed men experience, they also create a labor pool which, in time, becomes a competitive element that must be felt by woodworkers who still have jobs.

That factor deserves consideration when the union members give thought to Mr. Alsbury's plea for terms that benefit the largest number of people.

He Took a Dare

FROM TIME TO TIME CIRCUMSTANCES throw up an individual from the back rows who proves to be a man of the hour. Such a citizen is Mr. J. F. Faulkner of Toronto who has achieved prominence during the past few days.

It was Mr. Faulkner who attended the recent meeting of friends of Soviet Russia addressed by the Dean of Canterbury. The Toronto dress shop proprietor took exception to some of the statements of the Red Dean, and he stood up to ask a pertinent question or two.

The "friends" did not like that assertion of a democratic right and a few of the huskier ones hustled Mr. Faulkner from the hall. The parting words of the chairman were, "If you want to speak, go hire a hall."

Those words proved to be the only good advice Mr. Faulkner had received all evening. He determined to do just that, and since his decision, according to the news reports, his phone has not stopped ringing. Financial assistance has been offered to him, publicity experts have volunteered their services, people are flocking to buy tickets and the meeting is scheduled for Thursday night at Massey Hall.

At that meeting the other side of the wonderful "facts" about Russia offered by the old Canterbury Communist will be presented. A few persons who have escaped from Russian domination will be on the platform to give their version of the workers' paradise. And it may be that Communist questioners who rise to gain further information will be answered in full, with first-hand accounts they would rather not hear.

Mr. Faulkner appears to be the type of freedom-loving citizen who takes a dare. The Dean's chairman tossed the challenge and it was accepted. From this distance it would appear that one good Faulkner is worth a dozen Red Deans, whether from Canterbury or direct from Moscow.

Will his colleagues knuckle under to this strange new chief? Will Mao Tse-Tung, who could argue with Stalin, bow to the authority of Malenkov? And what of the soldiers? How will they like this chill super-bureaucrat and heavy-fleshed intriguer? No one can tell. No one in the West can do better. Indeed, than follow the wise rule of hoping for the best and preparing for the worst.

No one can even foresee whether the ensuing power struggle will be serious, or who will come out on top in the end. It is a strange drama, with the immensely fat, cunning, cruel, string-puller, Malenkov, setting out to dominate and control all the vast and surging forces of the widest and most absolute empire the world has ever seen.

Unwed Girl Mother Threatened Suicide

Toronto Court Hears Circumstances That Led Doctor to Procure Baby for U.S. Couple

TORONTO (CP)—The Crown was expected to call more witnesses today in the trial of Dr. Joseph S. Chaikoff, charged with helping a Brooklyn, N.Y., couple obtain an illegitimate baby they tried to smuggle across the border.

Chaikoff's trial was adjourned Tuesday after the Crown produced witnesses who traced the chain of events from the time the 56-year-old doctor met Edith and Jack Shindler and arranged for them to obtain a baby born to a 15-year-old unmarried girl at a charity hospital here.

The girl whose baby the Shindlers received told of her first meeting with the doctor and how she became "hysterical" when she learned she was pregnant.

"I threatened to kill myself," she told the court. "I went to Dr. Chaikoff and pleaded with him to help me."

She said Chaikoff told her he would find a home for the baby. He later registered the baby at the hospital under Mrs. Shindler's name and introduced her to Shindler a few days before the baby was born.

Earlier, Shindler pleaded guilty to a charge of fraud in making out a birth certificate for the baby boy and was fined $150 by Magistrate F. C. Gullen who described the haberdashery salesman as a "victim of circumstances." The same charge against Shindler's wife was withdrawn at the Crown's request.

GOOD PEOPLE? Shindler said he first met Chaikoff at the home of a mutual friend, Al Seltzer, in New York. He said he told the doctor of his wife being unable to bear a child and how much they wanted one.

"He told me he would see if he could fix me up when he got back to Toronto," Shindler said.

Shindler said he came to Toronto about three weeks before the baby was due to be born and made arrangements to pay the young mother's hospital bill which was $63, and to give Dr. Chaikoff $250 for "medical services."

He said that after the baby was born he could only give the doctor $150 because he was short of funds. "I told him I would send the rest when he got back to the United States."

The baby, now 19 days old, was being cared for by welfare officials. The Shindlers said they would decide after returning home whether to start legal adoption proceedings.

100-Year Life Span, Doctor's Prediction

Mastery of Heart Disease Expected

TORONTO (BUP)—A heart specialist predicted last night that by the year 2000 people may expect to live to be 100 if medical science finds better ways to control heart diseases.

Death of Indians In Capsized Launch Held 'Accidental'

LADYSMITH — Death by drowning of two persons as the result of the capsizing of a fishing vessel in Ladysmith Harbor Saturday night was declared by a coroner's jury Tuesday as accidental, with no blame attached to anyone.

Victims were Mrs. Lucien Peter, 75, and six-year-old Earl August, Kuper Island Indians, who had been trapped in the cabin of the boat.

The jury recommended Ralph Jones and Cassel Aleo for saving the lives of all but two of the 23 persons aboard the boat when it left for Kuper Island with a heavy deckload of lumber.

It is recommended that precautions be taken in future to prevent the overloading of boats.

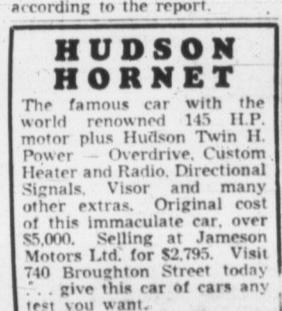

Cancer Clinic Treats, Tests 555 in Month

A total of 555 examinations and treatments were made at the Victoria Cancer Clinic, Royal Jubilee Hospital, during February, the clinic reported today.

Twenty-four new patients were admitted. Nineteen were diagnosed as cancer cases; four as non-malignant and one is still under examination.

Nineteen of these patients came from the Greater Victoria area and five from up-island points.

There were 104 follow-up examinations, a vital service to persons previously treated at the clinic and then discharged, according to the report.

FEDERAL AID TO BE ASKED FOR PROTECTION OF INDIANS

Central Saanich council will seek from the federal government a grant to provide police and fire services to Indian reservations within the municipality, Reeve Sydney Pickles said today.

The reeve said the municipality is responsible for policing the reservations but receives no grant from the government for such services. Fire protection "is already provided as a humane gesture" and will continue, he said.

Saanich Seeks Island View Beach Dike-Road

The federal government will be asked to consider construction of a dike at Island View Beach wide enough to be used as a road.

Central Saanich Council decided Tuesday night to ask the Ottawa authorities to plan the dike along Pinhook Bay in existence at the low-lying point of the beach which, in winter storms at high tide, allows flooding of adjacent farm land.

The dike plan was first proposed by residents of Island View Beach who have offered land needed for the road. They are E. R. Atkinson, Mrs. M. W.

and G. W. R. and R. D. F. Michell.

The road would provide protection from the sea and provide access to the beach and a year-round marine drive, residents told the council. They felt it

100 Rock Garden Enthusiasts in Show, April 8-9

Over 100 rock garden enthusiasts are growing prized alpine plants for competition in the annual show of the Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Society at the Crystal Garden on April 8 and 9.

Some of the plants will include rare flowers which grow naturally in the valleys of Himalaya mountain range in India. There will be other striking alpine plants from the Canadian Rockies.

This year's show is expected to be larger than last year's exhibition in view of the increasing interest being shown by Victorians in the growing of alpines.

The growing interest in alpines has resulted in the development of some of the most beautiful gardens in the city. These alpine gardens have now become show places for U.S. tourists.

Kenya Trial Of Terrorists Reaches End

KAPENGURIA, Kenya (Reuters) — Magistrate Ramsley Thacker Tuesday ended Kenya's longest trial and retired alone to ponder 2,000 pages of evidence for and against six men accused of being terrorist leaders.

Mr. Prudham denied any political influence had been used and said the sale was "strictly a hard-boiled business deal" on the part of two CNR subsidiaries owning the land his company bought. It had been an "excellent sale" from the railway standpoint because the lumber company needed the land adjacent to its Edmonton holdings.

The purchase was made last year by Prudham Building Supplies Ltd., of which the minister's president and controlling stockholder.

Egypt Agrees to Barter With Iron Curtain States

CAIRO (Reuters) — The reform administration of Gen. Mohamed Naguib has signed a sweeping barter agreement with three iron curtain countries, thus passing another landmark in its pledge to transform the life and ways of the Nile Valley.

The agreement to exchange Egyptian cotton for 115,000 tons of wheat from Russia, Poland and Bulgaria, signed Tuesday, is another milestone along the course General Naguib set for his country when he ousted King Farouk eight months ago.

The wheat will increase the food supply for Egypt, which depends largely on the fertile Nile Valley.

Last week Egypt signed an agreement with Communist East Germany for a $12,000,000 exchange of cotton, phosphates and onions for machinery, electrical appliances, chemicals and fertilizers.

While increased trade is considered vital, it is only one in a long list of reforms.

Most spectacular of all has been Naguib's rapid reshaping of foreign policy, highlighted last month when Egypt and Britain, after months of haggling, signed an agreement on the future of the Sudan.

No sooner was that signed than Naguib announced his intention of getting to work on the settlement of Egypt's other dispute with Britain—the withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

When Naguib took over last July the most contentious plank in his platform was his promise to end the centuries-old feudal system of land distribution.

When his project is completed, no Egyptian will be allowed to own more than 200 acres.

THE BIG BOOM IN CANADA

Largest, potentially richest, country on this continent, the Dominion is quietly becoming one of the greatest — most prosperous — powers in the world!

Canada produces more nickel, asbestos, uranium and newsprint than any other nation. Oil reserves in the sands of Alberta and iron deposits in the hills of New Quebec appear to be the biggest on earth. And the surface has hardly been scratched! Wages have doubled in a decade and the standard of living promises to become the highest in the world. Everything points to Canada as the country of the future. And this week millions of Americans will be getting the whole story from the Saturday Evening Post. Learn the facts yourself and find out what your neighbors to the south are reading about you. CAHA Official Isn't Talking MIDLAND, Ont. (UPI)—Canada's hockey world remained in a dizzy spin today and the man who could straighten it out just wasn't talking.

George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, flatly refused to say whether any clubs affiliated with the suspended Quebec branch had communicated a preference to break from the CAHA and enter Alexander, Allan and Memorial Cup playdowns.

The deadline for them to do so passed at midnight.

"I'm not making any statement now," he said.

Dudley obviously had been in touch with somebody. A telephone operator said the Midland exchange had never handled as many long-distance calls. But to whom and from whom the calls went or came was anybody's guess.

It was known, however, that no break was made by any club in the Quebec Senior League, which competes for the Alexander Trophy, or by the Montreal Canadiens and Quebec Citadelle of the Memorial Cup Junior League.

Frank Selke Sr., managing director of the Montreal Forum which controls the Canadiens, said that "no matter what happens" the junior Habs would not enter Memorial Cup play unless they were permitted to use Ron Attwell.

INNOCENT GOAT

Attwell, 19-year-old winger, was the central figure in the imbroglio. The CAHA said he was ineligible to play in Quebec. The QCHA said he could play and issued him a certificate. The CAHA promptly suspended the Quebec branch. Late Tuesday, Selke announced that Attwell had been dropped from the Canadiens roster to escape being made "the innocent goat" of the dispute. Selke said players of the future would blame Attwell if the Quebec teams stayed out of national competition. However, Selke emphasized, the Canadiens still believed he was eligible and still supported the QCHA stand.

Frank Byrne, president of the Quebec Citadelle, announced at the last minute that his club had decided not to break with the QCHA although it had desired to compete in the Memorial Cup round.

PRO NEXT YEAR

It appeared likely that the Quebec Senior League would not play off for the Alexander Trophy against the Maritime Major champions regardless of the outcome of the dispute. The Professional Western League now is being poled on the possibility of a playoff with the QSHL which indicated it may turn pro next year.

All clubs in the Lake St. John Senior League and the Provincial League said earlier they intended to stand by the Quebec branch. All normally qualify for Allan Cup playdowns. Whether any team had changed its mind was known to Dudley, but, as stated heretofore, he wasn't talking.

STAN LONG TO RETURN SATURDAY

Stan Long, Victoria Hockey Club player, who has recovered from a near-fatal injury, will return to Victoria Saturday.

Authorities of Saskatoon City Hospital stated Tuesday that Long will be released from hospital Thursday and will return to Victoria with his wife who joined him in Saskatoon last week.

Long has been confined to hospital since Feb. 25 when he was injured in a game with the Saskatoon Quakers, a broken stick piercing his leg. Although Long lost most of his blood in the accident, Dr. Barney McPhail of the Saskatoon club reports Long's blood pressure and circulation are normal again.

A Guy Can Dream, Can't He?

With lacrosse season only seven weeks away and Victoria Shamrocks' having only 10 players in the fold, coach Red McMillan is on a hunting trip. McMillan left today for Toronto, where he will combine a holiday with a tour of eastern lacrosse centres, where he hopes to pick up additional playing strength for this year's team. And who is that blond lad Red dreams about bringing back to Victoria? None other than Archie Browning, who will probably be the first player Red will visit. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Esquimalt Lacrosse Registration Begins

The largest youth enterprise attempted in Esquimalt municipality starts rolling Thursday, when boys between the ages of eight and 17 who desire to play minor lacrosse will register.

Preliminary registration will be held at the Municipal Hall on Esquimalt Road at 6 that night.

Anyone wishing to play in the junior division may also register at the same time.

Membership drive to the supporters' club is progressing and a 17-inch screen television set will be given away at the official opening of the lacrosse club.

A cheque to help defray expenses of constructing the asphalt floor of the box will be presented to Doug Fletcher on behalf of the Inter-City Lacrosse League by commissioner Ed. Popham.

The presentation will take place at the box on Lyle Street Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

H. A. Wallace has donated $250. Several other pledges also have been made.

Medical Report Upsets Training Table

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Medical Association has jolted the sports world with a report which would have delighted the likes of Babe Ruth, Rube Waddell and Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Shattering all training table rules, the AMA's council on foods and nutrition reported that if weight is maintained "cakes, pies and gravies are not harmful to an athlete."

It also asserted there is "no evidence" to support the idea that drinking great amounts of fluids during strenuous exercise was harmful.

I would hazard a guess that this would depend on the type of "fluids."

But it is the kind of a report which would have brought beaming smiles to the Bambino, the unpredictable Ruth and the sociable old Alec. That was their theory to the letter.

Ruth certainly was far ahead of his time in the medical department. The Babe figured that dull meals were for the incarcerated. His appetites were truly gargantuan, whether it was food or drink, and only once did it handicap him.

That was the time he ate too many hot dogs and had to be taken to a hospital. And "too many" with the Babe was quite a few. A mere half-dozen was an appetizer. He also consumed the "fluids" with consummate ease and one of his greatest delights was to fling a cheque at a bar tender—a cheque for $15,000.

Babe had received it for endorsing a breakfast cereal. Instead of cashing it, he carried it around as his "bar money" until the figures were no longer legible and the company had gone broke. "Hell," he said, "I got $15,000 worth of laughs out of it."

Waddell was a man with the "fluids," too. There was nothing Ruth liked better than to play bartender, unless it was to ride fire engines, and often a posse had to be sent out to round him up when it was his turn to pitch. Alexander, too, was a convivial soul who, rumor has it, often pitched after consuming "great amounts of fluids."

Of course this business of "cakes, pies and gravies" may be debatable. For it is doubtful in most cases whether the use of such fodder will permit the "weight" to be maintained. Many an athlete has eaten himself right out of his particular sport because he was too good to climb higher on the baseball ladder.

Heard was the winning pitcher Tuesday as Portland

Chase in the third inning with the Seals leading 3-2. Heard turned in three innings of shutout pitching before he left the game in the sixth inning in favor of Dick Waibel.

Heard got credit for the victory by virtue of a four-run rally in the fifth inning. Bob Moniz and Granny Gladstone, Tyee outfielders last year, each had a single in the fifth inning.

Cougar Hopes Dim as Rockets, Flyers Win

Stamps Take Second in Close Playoff Battle

Tacoma 6, New Westminster 4; Edmonton 4, Vancouver 2

Calgary 6, Saskatoon 1

There's nothing the Cougars can do about it either.

That just about sums up Tuesday night's Western Hockey League results as they affect the Cougars' playoff hopes.

Tacoma Rockets whipped New Westminster Royals, 6-4, and Edmonton Flyers tripped up Vancouver Canucks, 4-2, to make the Cougar's herculean task that much more difficult.

As the battle for survival now stands, Victoria is out in the cold if New Westminster wins two games, Tacoma two (plus a tie) and Edmonton two.

Seattle is in a position similar to the Cougars but have three points in hand over the cats. That's how serious the matter is.

But just to make it more interesting the upper echelons of the standings are undergoing a fast change over and it's unlikely that the final placings of the second to sixth-place teams will be known until the final day of the season.

STAMPS SECOND

Reason for this is that Calgary Stampers defeated Saskatoon Quakers, 6-1, while the Canucks were losing, to move into second place.

Edmonton, on the start of a coast swing, moved into a fourth-place tie with New Westminster while Tacoma is sixth, one point behind the Flyers and Royals.

Tacoma are only six points behind the second-place Stamps, same difference between the Cougars and the Rockets and the final playoff berth. So anything could happen yet, but it will take a complete collapse of one of the clubs to enable the Cougars to sneak home.

A goal a period gives Stamps' Enio Scisilzzi a hat-trick, while Ray Barry, Steve Black and George Agar were the other Calgary marksmen, Roy Kelly getting two assists.

Playing coach Doug Bentley scored the lone Saskatoon goal in the first period on a passing play with George Senick and Chuck McCullough.

Jones held the hot and cold Navy club together during the season and his sterling defensive work made up the Navy's lack of scoring punch. He scored a shutout in the semi-final series as Navy took three straight games from Individual Cleaners to advance to the final.

Merchants were head and shoulders above the other league clubs during the season in the scoring department and were recently strengthened by the addition of former Victoria Cougar Joe Evans. Merchants have three lines capable of taking on the scoring load at any time.

Merchants were head and shoulders above the other league clubs during the season in the scoring department and were recently strengthened by the addition of former Victoria Cougar Joe Evans. Merchants have three lines capable of taking on the scoring load at any time.

New Westminster's Ollie Dorohoy was taken to hospital for treatment after he was ridden into the boards by Davidson in the second period. He received a chest injury, but was permitted to return to New Westminster with the team.

Edmonton, on its last Coast visit of the season, plays New Westminster tonight. One of the other teams will see action.

NHL CLUBS TOUR IN MAY

LONDON (CP)—Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League will play a series of games in Britain starting mid-May, it was announced here today.

It is probable the teams, who visited Europe in 1933, will play at rinks around the six-team English National Hockey League, including Brighton, Nottingham and London's Streatham rink.

They also are scheduled to play at the Paris Palais des Sports.

Curling Tips

By BILLY ROSE

(This is the 11th in a series of curling articles, written especially for the Times by Billy Rose, former Canadian champion, who tallied 42 points to put his team in the NCAA western regionals with an 88-77 basketball victory over the Idahoans.)

COLD-BLOODED GAME

The majority of curlers will never get to a carspiel, but all will take part in an ordinary bonspiel where the prizes are relatively small.

Later I will discuss carspels as such, with their very exacting style of game, but to begin with it is the small-town 'spiel that comes to mind.

A good many local rinks participate, made up of relatively inexperienced players. Thus it isn't possible for the skip to figure-on anything but average shooting from his players. He plays them accordingly and the games are more interesting because of this.

D'AMOUR MISSES, TOO

The mere fact that Frenchy D'Amour missed an easy take-out shot for the cars in Edmonton in 1950 should hearten all rock-throwers. Even the best of 'em miss! A good thing to remember is this: If you put them in the house, they've got to be taken out. This keeps the pressure on the other guy.

Remember, too, that the other rink may be just as nervous as you are, and even a top-notch rink fears an upset being sprung upon them: Leo Johnson of Winnipeg, eventual winner of the cars in Edmonton in 1950 was forced to draw to an empty house on the 12th end against the comparatively unknown ACT rink before qualifying for a berth in the final.

Soccer School Reopens at Four Parks

Junior and juvenile soccer players will flock to four Greater Victoria parks on Saturday when the popular soccer school resumes.

Classes, sponsored by the Dominion Football Association, will be held in Windsor, Borden, Hollywood and Macdonald Parks Saturday morning at 10. Ed Ball, Rookie Wright, Tom Christie and Doc Miller will coach at Windsor Park; George Kulai, Joe Travis, Dusty Miller and Jack Donald at Borden Park; Rom Restell, Don Waklyn and Gray Restell at Macdonald Park, and John Moss and Alex Walker at Hollywood Park.

Any youngsters between the ages of six and 15 are invited to attend.

O'Brien and Co. To Test Huskies

SEATTLE (AP)—Idaho State's airtight defense put the clamps on all but one Seattle Chieftain Tuesday but that was willie the wisp Johnny O'Brien, who tallied 42 points to put his team in the NCAA western regionals with an 88-77 basketball victory over the Idahoans.

En route to the triumph little John, five feet, nine inches of basketball dynamite, added one more to his long string of scoring records. This was the national major individual scoring mark for a single season, formerly held by Dick Groat of Duke at 831 and now boosted to 861 points by Johnny O.

Edmundson Pavilion was jammed to the skylights with 11,650, all rallying around to watch their beloved Chieftains hop one more hurdle on the way to a long-dreamed-of battle with cross-town rival University of Washington.

This tilt is now ticketed for Friday at Corvallis, Ore., in the regionals, for which Washington qualified last week as Pacific coast conference champion.

Although Idaho state's smooth crew of sophomores and juniors never led the Chiefs, they were in contention until early in the fourth period when a seven-point Seattle spurge finally sank their hopes. Before it came, the Rocky Mountain conference champs had cut Seattle's margin to four points at 68-64.

Johnny O'Brien got the fracs under way with a two-pointer and Idaho countered with two free throws to tie it up. Then Fred Moscatel sank a line drive from the side and Seattle was out in front for keeps.

By halftime, Seattle was able to pull a 43-35 margin over the stubborn Bengals.

Quakers Make Point Advance

Only two Western Hockey League scoring leaders made advances in games Tuesday night and both players were from Saskatoon.

Chuck McCullough and George Senick each drew an assist on Saskatoon's only marker as Quakers went down to a 61 defeat at the hands of Calgary Stampeders.

The extra point moves both players into a tie for sixth place. McCullough with 31 goals and 39 assists or 70 points, and Senick with 26 goals and 41 assists for the same total.

Sweden Leads Puck Turney

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—Sweden upset a strong Czechoslovakian team 5-3 in the world hockey championships Tuesday night and moved into the lead in the four-country scramble for the world title left undefended by Canada.

The Swiss provided another surprise in the tournament by defeating Germany 3-2 at Zurich. The Germans, who seemed surprisingly strong against the Swedes two days ago, couldn't get into the swing and missed many opportunities.

Canada and the United States are not competing this year because the two teams could not obtain guarantees for expenses, by Canada.

Mario's One Gay Caballero Says Actress

Ann Miller Gets Ode From Bullfighter

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ann Miller flounced home from Spain with the usual souvenirs of a movie queen — dolls, fans, a flamenco dancer's outfit, and love poems from bullfighter Mario Cabré.

Mario, if followers of such international affairs have forgotten, is the handsome Don Mario who hopped into the headlines when he penned poems to Ava Gardner while Frankie Sinatra glowered in the background.

Cabré then transferred his writing ability to Yvonne De Carlo.

And when Ann stopped off in Madrid during her first vacation trip to Europe, Cabré welcomed her, too.

"He was at the airport to meet me," the long-legged dancer said.

"Oh, I'd never met him before," she added. "I don't have the faintest idea of how he knew I was coming."

"He is so good-looking! He looks like Rudolph Valentino. So charming and sweet!" He said: "Anytheen I can do for you to show you the see-ty, let me know."

ROSES WITH A POEM

"The next day he sent roses, with a poem. The poems are always on cards he sends. I had to have it translated."

Miss Miller can't remember what the card said. She didn't know whether Mario wrote the same poems to Ava and Yvonne.

"Then he telephoned me wanted to fight a bull for me," she said. "He's really not the top bull fighter, but he does it now and then to impress his movie fans. He's like the Robert Taylor of Spain."

The handsome Spaniard fought a dangerous bull for her. She was impressed.

"Mario is so romantic," she sighed. "But, of course, I didn't stay there long enough to have a romance or anything. I think he's never gotten over Ava anyway. He kept talking about her."

"I think he really loved her."

After Ann saw the city, she showed Mario a flamenco dance she does in her current MGM movie, "Small Town Girl." Then the bullfighter and the lady exchanged autographed photos, which I guess is the correct thing to do under the circumstances.

Mario has written Ann since she returned to Hollywood.

Three Dimensional Crâze Catches Up With Victoria

The new three-dimensional craze that is sweeping the North American continent is due to engulf Victoria in about three weeks' time.

At the Capitol Theatre, early in the spring, Warner Brothers' highly-touted "The House of Wax" makes its three-dimensional debut before Victoria moviegoers. This will star Vincent Price, Phyllis Kirk and Frank Lovejoy. According to all the information I have on hand, "The House of Wax" is There's nothing much the critics can say about this. It's an excellent picture in itself. But "Bwana Devil" is only the face of "three-dimensional."

It should be fun to see them all.

LIKE RUDOLPH THE REINDEER, RADAR JOE LEADS DOZER GANG

Radar Joe, the Indian with an unfailing sense of direction, was the centre of attraction of the Legislature Tuesday night.

Tony Gargrave (CCF, Mackenzie) explained how residents of Bella Coola, 250 miles up the coast from Vancouver, last year started on their own a rough road over the Coast Range to Williams Lake. They had become "fed up" waiting for the government to give them a land connection with "civilization."

The MLA said no formal survey was made, but Radar Joe pointed out the way for the lead bulldozer. He was dead right throughout, Mr. Gargrave said.

There now remains only six miles to be completed. The government contributed $10,000 to the work, and Mr. Gargrave would like another $20,000.

FEDERAL VOTE MAY WAIT UNTIL 1954

"Well-Founded Reports Say Prime Minister Won't Get to Country Until After Coronation"

OTTAWA (BUP) — Parliamentary corridors were abuzz today with apparently well-founded reports that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent definitely has decided not to call a general election before the June 2 Coronation.

An election on May 11 had been generally predicted, but the most talked-of date now is for October of this year or the spring of 1954. Mr. St. Laurent was said to feel that the government would not suffer by pushing the election date as close as possible to the June, 1954, limit on the life of the current parliament.

There were also reports that the house would take a one-week Easter recess this year, despite its drive to finish its work by the middle of May in advance of the Coronation. During the week, Mr. St. Laurent and other party leaders plan to take vacations in preparation for the Coronation.

Parliament could be dissolved instantly for an election at any time...despite the fact that the budget has not yet been written into law and the $1,750,000,000 spending program for the fiscal year starting April 1 has not been touched. Money to carry on the government's services can be obtained through Royal warrants approved by Governor-General Vincent Massey during the period between dissolution and the election of a new parliament.

Tuesday, a Conservative said he did not think the government would attempt to use the new budget as an election issue, and a Newfoundland Liberal quickly

11 Finding of Foster Homes Impeded by Lost Revenues

Provision of foster homes for unfortunate children forms the major part of the work of the Family and Children's Service, Mildred Wright, director, told Victoria Chapter, Registered Nurses Association of Canada, yesterday.

She said a 35-per-cent budget slash owing to failure of last fall's Community Chest drive to reach its objective, will result in curtailment of service, unless the provincial government makes a special grant.

Outlining history of the F. and C. Service, Miss Wright said it was formed through a 1947 merger of the Children's Aid Society and the Family Welfare Association.

Provinces to Choose Half Senate Suggested

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, authority on parliamentary procedure and clerk of the Commons between 1925 and 1949, suggests that half the members of the Senate be appointed by provincial legislatures.

"The Fathers of Confederation had in mind an upper house which would protect the minorities," Dr. Beauchesne said. "With the government appointing all the senators this is not done."

If half the senators were appointed by the provincial legislatures, it would provide for government leader in the upper chamber who several years ago suggested a study of Senate reform, said in comment that Dr. Beauchesne's idea is not a new one.

IN THE HOUSE

The crowing of roosters and the cackling of hens plagued Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi in the Legislature Tuesday when his department's estimates were reviewed.

"I've got a very big heart. The government will help out where it can," said the minister in reply to an MLA's request for more secondary road maintenance.

Up jumped Opposition Leader Harold Winch and asked: "How about a few more facts, and a little less emotionalism?"

Later, when Mr. Winch said the minister should do more and talk less, Mr. Gagliardi replied:

"Not to tool my own horn—but now that I can't—my mother told me I started to crow with the roosters when I was two years old, and I've been crowing ever since. And, I've had something to crow about."

Shot back Leo Nimsick (CCF, Burnaby), "That's more than your mother has."

Later, Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook), suggested Mr. Gagliardi should have "cackled like a hen" instead of crowing like a rooster. "Because a hen gets more results."

The vision of Robert Strachan (CCF, Cowichan-Newcastle), "walsing" across six feet of water intrigued the Legislature Tuesday.

The member was explaining deplorable conditions in the vicinity of Koksalah River where farms are flooded.

"I walked over a farm under six feet of water," he said.

"You walked?" interjected a government member.

"That would have been something to see."

"Well, naturally I didn't walk," retorted Mr. Strachan. "I don't have the celestial qualities of some of the government members. Besides, I didn't think I'd have to draw a picture to make you understand."

Later, Frank Mitchell (CCF, Esquimalt), observed that Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi, because of his abbreviated height, wouldn't have been able to "walk" over the area.

"He'd be under water," he said.

"Oh no, he'd float," quipped a CCF backbencher.

The House is losing its grip as a feature attraction in the capital city.

The public galleries were noticeably empty Tuesday afternoon. Now that the speech-making, with the accompanying barbs and insults, is over, Victorians seemingly are losing interest.

John Squire (CCF, Alberni), should get some kind of a prize for persistency.

Three times during the present session he has asked for a road to Tofino on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. The last time, on Tuesday, the public works minister made a cautious statement that he might order a "re-cap of previous route surveys."

Dr. Gagliardi, replying to Capt. D. J. Proudfoot (L. Victoria), said the government hasn't decided on the route of the second section of Victoria's Island Highway outlet.

"We think the Thetis Lake route is the best, and the people will thank us if we put it through there. It will give them a fine outlet," said the minister.

Mr. Gagliardi told the House the government plans a "stepped-up program of road maintenance" throughout the province.

Paving of the Sidney end of the new Patricia Bay highway will be carried out as soon as weather permits, the minister informed Frank Snowsell (CCF, Saanich).

Frank Mitchell (CCF, Esquimalt), told Mr. Gagliardi the government needs a new approach to the secondary road program.

"A few loads of gravel and a little grader work here and there are not good enough," he said.

Mr. Gagliardi assured Robert Strachan (CCF, Cowichan-Newcastle), the government will consider a subsidy for a Vesuvius-Crofton ferry if the federal government builds the wharves and a ferry is available.

The minister reiterated the government's stand that it will take the initiative and pay one-third of a $10,000,000 Marpole Bridge in Vancouver.

But, he said, Vancouver and Ottawa have not yet committed themselves. He promised to call an early conference to consider the whole problem.

William Moore (CCF, Comox), asked for a new bridge across the Courtenay River, two new structures across the Qualicum River and a new road to Bevan.

Opposition Leader Harold Winch, an electrician by trade, was looking out for his fellow tradesmen in the House.

He spied a reduced electrician's salary in the public works department estimates, and immediately questioned it.

"I want to see electricians' wages go up, not down."

He was assured there was no salary cut—only an integration of jobs.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi had a hard time saying "no" in the House Tuesday.

Asked by Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook), if a certain bridge is to be constructed this year, the minister replied:

"As far as I know we've not come to any complete positive disposition of that project."

B.C. Pay-as-You-Go Policy Held Blockading Progress

Because B.C.'s Social Credit government prefers to pay as it goes rather than borrow, it has no money for contributing to Vancouver's Marpole Bridge, PGE extensions and other major projects, charged Opposition leader Harold Winch. In the Legislature Tuesday.

"Does the government have any plan to go ahead with these projects?" he asked.

"Certainly we have a plan," replied Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi.

"What is it?" queried the CCF leader.

"Our plan for this year," said the minister, "is the plan we've presented to the Legislature. Next year we'll present our program for the following year. Little by little, we'll progress until we have roads second to none in Canada."

"If your actions were as loud as your words," we would really be going somewhere," cracked Mr. Winch.

The CCF leader suspected the government isn't going ahead with big projects so it can boast about not borrowing money.

Premier Bennett said he's willing.

Winch Foresees Chaos As Milk Control Ends

Fears Producer and Consumer Injury In Long Run; Calls for Inquiry

Chaos in the milk industry, underlined by higher prices to most consumers and harmful effects on farmers, was predicted in the Legislature Tuesday night by Opposition Leader Harold Winch.

Mr. Winch, speaking during consideration of the agriculture department estimates, called on Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan to supply the House with more information on the government's proposal to remove milk controls above the producer level.

"I can't see anything but chaos under the policy that the minister has announced so far," said Mr. Winch.

The CCF leader reiterated his plea for establishment of a Royal Commission to investigate the entire problem.

He thought it possible the government's decision to "tamper" with the situation may have been guided by Education Minister Tilly Rolston's declaration that she would reduce the price of milk to the consumer.

Mr. Winch appreciated the effort to see that the farmers get a fair return, but "I'm afraid in the long run the plan of price de-control will eventually work a hardship on the producer and consumer."

FEARFUL OF EFFECT

Effect of the government's proposal, he contended, is that the right to dictate the price to be charged for milk will be

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1953

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

It appears that wondering is a dangerous habit. On March 4, Between Times wondered when the first motorist would report his 1953 license tabs stolen. As of yesterday, eight motorists had been deprived of their tabs by thieves getting their new licenses the easy, economy way.

Wonder when Between Times will be accused of contributing suggestions to criminals?

Whether or not this is a true story, or whether it happened in Victoria, or anywhere else, for that matter, I don't know. But here's the way it was told to me, and I choose to believe it:

On Commercial Street, near Humboldt, a motorcycle policeman stopped his machine parallel to a parked car, descended from the saddle, and in the time honored manner of policemen everywhere, placed his foot on the car's bumper, and used his knee as a desk as he proceeded to write.

A kindly passerby, seeing the parking meter showed "Violation," quickly slipped in a nickel, turned the handle and said:

"Look, officer. You don't need to bother writing a ticket. See—the meter's okay."

The officer looked up, grinned, and replied:

"I'm not writing a ticket. This is my wife's car, and I am just writing her a note saying I'll be late for supper."

Spring is certainly in the air. Every evening, the happy couples park along the scenic drive, watching the glowing rays of the setting sun cast romantic gleams across the water, catching in their warm light the graceful outline of the garbage scow, sailing serenely out to sea.

An eagle-eyed reader pounced on four typographical errors in the same issue of The Times, and mailed the clipping to Between Times with the comment:

"Thought I would send you a little fiddler for your column. I could have sent this to Mrs. Tilly Rolston as further argument for going back to the three R's and leaving sex matters out of the school curriculum. However, I prefer to keep it out of politics."

Well, I wish to thank this writer for calling the typographical errors to my attention, and would also like to compliment him on the neat, tidy manner in which the letter was typed.

The trouble is, the letter was signed "Suscriber."

Amazing how those typos do creep in!

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Annual meeting of the Royal Jubilee Hospital will be held Friday, March 20, in the lounge of the nurses' residence. Films and refreshments are included in the evening's program.

Thirteen permits for building valued at $31,175 have been issued in Esquimalt so far this year. Four were issued during February for homes worth a total of $32,600, according to municipal officials.

Mount Tolmie Boy Scout Hall will soon be completed, thanks to support shown the group in a recent fund drive. Officials said today that a bid of $745 had been accepted from C. S. Hobbs & Sons for stuccoing the building and that volunteers were painting and finishing the interior.

A window in the Imperial Bank branch in the 700 block Fort Street was broken at 8:50 Tuesday night by a man who put his fist through the glass.

Veronica Chapman, 1025 McCaskill, told police she saw a drunken man swing at the window and stagger away.

Constable Nap Bouchard later arrested a man who had his right hand covered with blood. That man appeared in court today and was fined $10 for being drunk in a public place.

Bill to Level School Taxes Rides Protest

Finance Minister Einar Gunnerson today told the Vancouver Board of Trade the government intends to proceed with implementation of Bill 45, the controversial legislation aimed at bringing about school tax assessment uniformity.

A delegation asked that the bill be held up for one year while a complete study is made.

It was the second time in two weeks the government has refused major organizations' requests for postponement of the bill. The first request came from the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

The delegation, headed by president Ralph Pybus, agreed with the principle that measures for controlling education costs, and distributing the financial burden on an equitable basis, were necessary.

"In our opinion, however, this bill will not achieve the desired objectives. Instead of distributing the cost of education on a broader basis among the people it proposes measures which will result in an even greater load being thrown on home owners and other property owners."

"The bill contains, within it the elements of the highly undesirable personal property tax, a tax tried and discarded in B.C. many years ago when it was found unpopular and unworkable," the delegation submitted.

If B.C. is to continue to grow and to continue high levels of industrial activity and employment, the "climate" for expansion must be favorably maintained, it was contended.

Victoria Inboard-Outboard Association will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 8 at the Williams Building, 749 Broughton Street.

City police took water pistols away from five youths in "horseplay" at Douglas and Blanshard Tuesday night.

Police since last weekend have had occasion to confiscate number of water pistols used by youths to squirt passersby. Four of the latest "gunmen" were aged 18. The other was 17.

A 10-unit auto court to cost $20,000 will be constructed on East Saanich Road, about a half-mile south of Keating Crossroad. The municipal council Tuesday approved the construction.

Charged with theft of about $100 worth of scrap metal from the Government Drydock, William Morris and F. Gray appeared in Esquimalt police court Monday.

Morris pleaded guilty. He was remanded in custody to next Monday's court, where Gray will enter trial. He has not pleaded.

Moderate damage was done to cars owned by Brian L. Rounding, 1417 41st Street, N. Seattle, 2, and George J. Erickson, 808 Acadia, in collision Tuesday afternoon at Craigflower and Skinner. City police said the Seattle car ran into the properly-parked Erickson vehicle.

City police went hunting today. They shot two large racoons out of a tree at 134 Government Street.

Elected to the Supreme Court bench resulted in his resignation today as trustee of the city debt retirement board and member of the Memorial Arena Commission.

Looters Leave Empty-Handed

City police reported two shop burglaries overnight, but the burglars go nothing.

Entered were Atlas Mattress Company, 2714 Quadra, and a service station next door. Entries were gained by breaking windows.

Detectives Louis Callan and Norman Bath found two youths in the vicinity but after close questioning they were cleared of responsibility for the break-ins.

Solicitor for the company is Gwynne Meredith, Vancouver.

Muskrat Hairs on Damaged Taxi; Injured Victim Wore Fur Coat

Hairs found on a taxi police seized in a hit-and-run case were the same as those in a muskrat coat worn by

Raynor is alleged to have been the driver of a car that knocked down Miss Pamela Winslow, 1044 Craigdarroch, at Yates and Camosun.

Miss Winslow, still in hospital, is expected to remain there for several months more.

T. W. McConnell Davis, senior analyst of the B.C. Department of Mines, said his examinations had shown that hairs taken from a taxi police seized and a coat Miss Winslow was wearing when struck were of muskrat.

Accused Told Officer His Story

Constable Douglas Grant told the court that Raynor had reported to him that he had not passed the intersection in question on the night of the accident.

The constable said accused told him he had taken a fare to the 1300 block of Pandora between 6 to 6:20 p.m. but had returned down Pandora. Police believe the accident occurred between 6:15 and 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Proudfoot questioned whether the constable would have noticed such damage as dent to the front right end and the right-hand front door.

Constable Clark said he was quite sure he would have noticed as the door was binding to the extent there was a grating noise on opening it.

The officer said he had examined other taxis with "dome" lights after the accident and found none of them damaged.

Body Work in Perfect Condition

Lawrence Chambers, View Street Garage, who handles taxi meter repairs for most of the big firms, said that when the taxi left the garage on the afternoon of January 26, the body was in perfect condition.

Mr. Proudfoot wanted to know if witness had anything to do with taxis other than fixing meters. Mr. Chambers said he did not. He said Raynor picked up the taxi around 4 or 5 p.m. on the accident date.

Jacqueline W. Lloyd, 1317 Pandora, said she was taken to 1317 Pandora on the night of January 26. She could not identify anyone in court as being the driver.

Mr. Proudfoot expressed surprise that some of the examinations of the seized suspect taxi had been made at a place other than the police station. An examination was made at Bridgewood's Garage.

A total of 33 exhibits were put in as evidence in the case.

Duncan to Pay Pipeline Tax, Court Rules

Duncan will have to pay taxes to the Corporation of North Cowichan for 32,366 feet of water pipe it has running through the district.

This was decided by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in a judgment handed down in B.C. Supreme Court here.

North Cowichan has assessed the Duncan water pipes at $48,540 and is billing the city for taxes on that assessment.

City of Duncan first protested to the North Cowichan Court of Revision, but after its submission was turned down, carried the issue to the Supreme Court. The case was heard March 3.

Duncan argued two points: (1) that the pipes were not assessable or liable to taxation, and (2) alternatively, that the assessment was far too high.

WOULD PAY PART

During the course of the trial, D. M. Gordon, QC, solicitor for Duncan, said the city would be willing to pay improvement taxes on pipe situated on private property in North Cowichan but not that which was on public land.

Dealing with this point in his judgment, Mr. Justice Macfarlane observed: "It appears from the evidence, called that the water pipes are mainly on the roads or highways of the district and that only about 5,000 linear feet are in or upon private property."

Later in his judgment, he continued: "I do not think that the real question can reasonably be resolved apart from the point whether the city is assessable at all, e.g., as a public utility enterprise."

"The assessment of this water pipe which we have under consideration is made as a unit and unless it can be assessed, it is not practicable in my view to assess it at all."

Appeal dismissed.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Emily Carr in her "Book of Small" says that there were two springs, one in Fairfield and one in Beacon Hill from which Victoria obtained water. Could you tell me the present day location of these springs if they are still in existence?—H.W.S.

A.—Miss Carr listed three springs, the third being at Spring Ridge. The one in Fairfield was just behind where Crystal Spring Beverage Co., Ltd., has its office at 1244 Richardson Street. For years the company used the water from this spring. The Beacon Hill spring was located in a small wood where Simcoe Street comes into Douglas.

Q.—Was Winston Churchill, the U.S. author of "Richard Carvel" and other novels, also a politician like his more famous namesake, Prime Minister Churchill of Britain?

A.—Yes. Author Winston Churchill was a member of the New Hampshire State Legislature and ran for the New Hampshire governorship on the Progressive ticket.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published as space permits.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and of general interest.

SHOPPING GUIDE

All You Have to Do
Is Breathe and Read

By PENNY SAVER

We will assume you have followed our advice and invested in one of those bedrags that can be adjusted to a book holder (price, $4.95). Now we have found you another item to contribute to your complete relaxation. This is a nickel-plated book marker from England, which costs $1. A neat clip arrangement, with spring and extension to "put the finger" on that flipping page.

If you would like to show your interest in certain activities via a lapel pin, here is the opportunity. One smart pin suspends a tiny leather suitcase with a plaid umbrella strapped to it, price $3.50. Another one has a tennis racket and balls in a little leather container, obtainable in various colors to match your costume.

There is a black leather golf bag and clubs, with a pearl ball. Also a tan leather saddle bag with gold rifle at $3.50 and a crossed ski and ski pole, with little bag, for $4.50.

You might prefer a sombrero and dangling basket of fruit for $3.50. I expect this would denote an interest in Carmen Miranda. Or if you have a literary bent, there is a little book with marker and gold pencil, at the same price. Some of the above tokens open up to show space for two little snapshots.

Grandpa must have been a stout man to enter the same room as Grandma, in the old days. (I read that somewhere once). Anyway, our kindly manufacturers are still trying to make things pleasanter for everyone and another attempt is the latest chlorophyll-treated nylons, obtainable in Ashes of Roses and slightly darker Beige Cafe, two pair for $3. Evening sheer and attractively packaged in a plastic jewel case, they would make a lovely gift.

Then there are the wonderful Snagloc 51 gauge nylons at $1.95. I expect you have more things to do than to sit around either sandpapering or filing snags in these—we will take the maker's word for it that they will not run on a single thread break. Now isn't that good news?

Bursaries, Aid to Nurses Highlight Alumnae Year

Financial aid to student officers elected for 1953 nurses, bursaries and prizes are: Mrs. M. Conyers, president; Mrs. D. Shepherd, first vice-president; Mrs. E. Hayman, Royal Jubilee Hospital; it was second; Mrs. P. C. Turgoose, secretary; Mrs. F. Benton, assistant secretary; Mrs. N. McConnell, treasurer; Mrs. C. Pite, social convener; Mrs. D. McLeod, press; Miss N. Dickie, sick; Mrs. B. Owen, membership; Mrs. C. Flower, phoning; Miss M. Plunkett, entertainment.

Approximately $700 had been spent for nurses and nursing education. This amount is exclusive of 1953 bursary of $250 awarded to Miss Mary Irving, who is to take a university course in teaching and supervision.

More than $1,300 had been raised during the year by means of rummage sales, a diminishing tea, bazaar, bridge and canasta party and sale of Christmas cards.

Unanimous vote adopted an amendment to the constitution which will enable student nurses of Royal Jubilee School of Nursing to borrow up to $100 from the Alumnae Sick Nurses' Fund to aid them in completion of training.

Retiring president Miss M. Plunkett was presented with a gift of three pottery mugs and a silver tea service was presented to the nurses' residence, honoring the late Miss Ellen McKenney, graduate of the class of 1916.

BPW Club Assists Flood Victims, School Children

A sum of $30 for flood relief was voted from club funds at Monday's meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club.

The money, augmented by donations from individual members at next two meetings of the club, will be forwarded to Canadian Federation president to be sent with other club donations to Dame Caroline Hassett, international president, in England, the fund to be used for relief of business and professional women's club members who may have been victims of the floods in England or Holland.

A donation of $10 was also made to Greater Victoria School Board to assist in sending two school children to the Coronation.

Following the business session a program, "Members' Hobbies" was presented with Miss Iola Worthington giving a talk on rudiments of hand-weaving, illustrated with articles she made on her loom and Mrs. Sybil Bateman a talk on stamp collecting, illustrated with an excellent collection from India with which she has won prizes in Seattle and at local shows.

Initiation — Four new members, Mesdames G. Williams, E. Stevenson, M. Ashbury and E. Knight, were initiated at last meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary, Army, Navy and Airforce Veterans. Mrs. M. Carver presided. A further donation of $35 was made to flood relief, bringing the total from this auxiliary to $85. Plans were completed for a St. Patrick's tea on March 18 and for the B.C. Provincial Command general meeting this month. Any member wishing to attend the luncheon should telephone Mrs. M. Unwin, E. 8746, or Mrs. M. Carver, E. 9925.

Easter Honey!*AS WE LIVE*Don't Waste Your Time On Conceited Young Girl

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Some girls are worth wasting time, thought, or even sleep on. Others are not. This young man is making himself unhappy about a situation that can never bring him happiness. He writes:

(Q) I am at my wits end, and so I just had to write to you. I have been acquainted with a young girl who is 10 years younger than I. When she is with me, she is conceited and very hard to get along with. She says she likes me and enjoys my company, but why does she act like this? People are always complimenting her and, as far as I can see, it has got to her head. I made up my mind to stop seeing her and I did for some time, thinking our age difference was the trouble. Recently she invited me to a party. I went, hoping that we might see eye to eye. But she wanted me there just to show me she is still in the centre of attraction. This is getting under my skin. What should I do to handle her?

(A) I suggest that you "handle" this young woman by dropping her flat and hard. You find your contacts with her a source of irritation so why continue them? Surely there are plenty of other girls with whom you could have pleasanter times than with one who "gets under your skin."

You were wise to accept her invitation for the party. It gave you an opportunity to see her again after an interval of time during which you had an opportunity to get a better perspective. Now that you have seen her again and have found that your temperaments still clash, there is no reason for you to prolong the friendship.

Don't blame the trouble on the difference in your ages. Many young men and women who are as far apart in age as the two of you are very compatible. Your trouble stems from the personality pattern of the girl. She is so selfish and egotistical that she cannot make anyone happy for any length of time.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Return From Extensive Holiday

Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas J. Johnston, King George Terrace, have returned to their home after an extended holiday, during which they visited Mr. Johnston's old home at Milton, Otago, on the south island, New Zealand. While there they were guests of his brother, Mr. J. Johnston.

Leaving Victoria last October aboard the MS Aorangi, they stopped at Honolulu and the Fiji Islands, traveled down the east coast of New Zealand to the south island; from Auckland flew to Sydney and visited Melbourne, Canberra, Adelaide and Tasmania, before again embarking on the Aorangi for home.

Surprise Party for Homecomer

A surprise party, arranged by the Langford Community Club and the Women's Auxiliary to the volunteer fire department, welcomed home Mrs. Rodney Bayles, who returned aboard the MS Aorangi from a visit to her parents. The party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayles, Peatt Road, Langford.

The honor guest was presented with a corsage of freesias and pink camellias and the evening was spent in music and dancing. Amusing skits were presented by F. Austin Yates and Rodney Bayles. Also assisting in entertainment were Mrs. Myrtle Tupman, Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. H. Hicks and Mr. Hicks. A buffet supper was served.

To Meet Old Friends in Australia

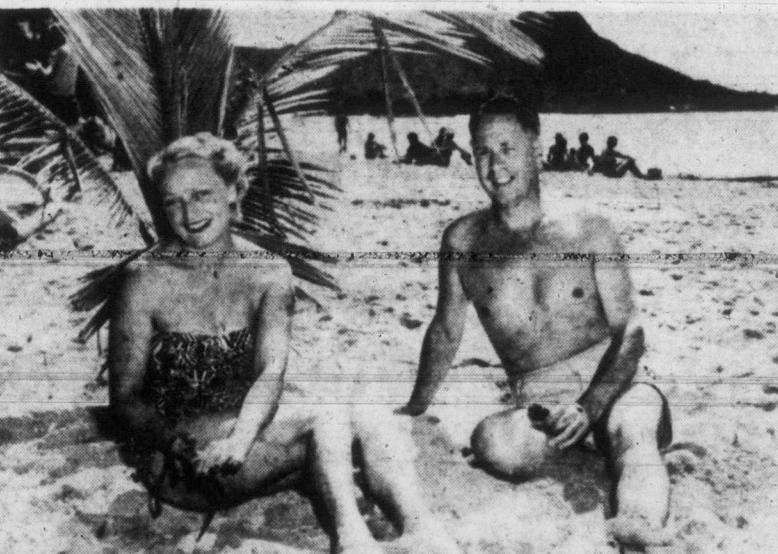

Mrs. C. E. Moore is leaving Victoria aboard the MS Aorangi on Thursday for a three-month visit in Australia, where she will be the guest of Capt. Thomas Stearn, RN (Retired), and Mrs. Stearn, in Sydney. The three friends will be meeting for the first time in 34 years. Mrs. Moore expects to return to her Beach Drive home about the end of May.

Honored on Birthday

A surprise party was held Tuesday evening at the Derby Road home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon Greenwood, to honor the former on the occasion of his birthday. Music and games were enjoyed by the guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Schillington, Mrs. Nan Blakey, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Handel, Mr. and Mrs. Cec Ridout, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sewell.

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Cook Dash, Hampton Road, in honor of Miss Lillian Hehn, whose marriage will take place in April. A clever representation of a bridal party was made with kitchen gadgets. The numerous other gifts were presented in a model of a sailing ship. Guests were Mrs. H. Hehn, Mrs. L. J. Brine, Mrs. E. Silburg, Mrs. F. Brinkworth, Mrs. D. Kissinger, Mrs. A. Griffiths, Mrs. J. Neuls, Mrs. O. Zilkie, Mrs. J. Webb, Mrs. L. Winder, Mrs. B. Garlick, Mrs. J. Westlake, Mrs. L. Newells and the Misses Lorna Farmer, Pat Garick, Reta Hehn, Dale Cole and Barbara Clark.

Mrs. R. Cole and Mrs. A. Dash were co-hostesses recently when they entertained at a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Dale Cole and Barbara Clark.

Sunshine and Sea Breezes in Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore enjoy the sun at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu, where they are spending a winter vacation.

They expect to return to their Beach Drive home about the middle of this month. (Royal Hawaiian Hotel photo.)

Diocesan Board Receipts Show An Increase; Many Branches Reported

At today's session of the annual meeting of the British Columbia Diocesan Board, Women's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada, the treasurer, Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, reported total receipts as $11,741.67, an increase of $867.38 over the previous year.

Interest in all fields of work had grown, Mrs. Goodwin said, with increases in donations to Anglican Theological College, Maple Leaf Hospital, Kangra, leper work and in work in Korea, a new field this year.

Report of Cowichan Deaconery, given by Mrs. F. R. Saddi, Cheamainus, showed 12 senior branches, four girls' auxiliaries, three junior auxiliaries and eight Little Helper groups.

Cowichan Deaconery comprised 17 senior, five girls', five juniors and 12 Little Helper groups. Mrs. J. Noel, Courtenay, reported.

Opening prayers this morning were taken by Mrs. H. H. Creal and the noonday address by Canon A. E. Greenhalgh.

Life-members' and treasurers' conferences, convened by Mrs. D. E. Mitchell and Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, respectively, took place immediately following luncheon today.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

During yesterday afternoon's session Mrs. R. O. Taylor, in her presidential message, traced growth in Canada of missionary work among the Indians, from the beginning of Indian residential schools to the present government buildings administered by the church. She also reported on missionary work in Japan, India and Pakistan.

The annual meeting continues all day Thursday.

MISSIONARY DESCRIBES

Modern Buildings, Schools And Churches in New Japan

Speaking before a large gathering at Memorial Hall at evening session, British Columbia Diocesan Board, Woman's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada, Miss Jessie Miller, missionary on furlough from Japan, gave a vivid picture of post-war conditions in that country.

Miss Miller, who comes from Edmonton, returned to her work in Japan at close of the war and found destruction and devastation from bombing attacks were prevalent in most major Japanese cities.

During the past few years, however, the Japanese have replanted trees and reconstructed cities with new and modern buildings. Illustrating her talk with colored slides, Miss Miller gave a vivid picture of life in Japan, where only 15 per cent of the land is arable yet two crops are harvested annually.

With rebuilding of new schools and churches the work of Christianity is steadily progressing, she said, with the Japanese church self-governed by native bishops and clergy. Only 1 per cent of the people in this densely populated country is Christian. Miss Miller continued.

Miss Miller, who comes from Ganges, has come from Ganges to be with Mr. and Mrs. Holt and a luncheon party was held at the Holt home today with covers laid for 10 guests.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn introduced the speaker. Mr. R. O. Taylor gave the vote of thanks.

Rev. J. Low, speaking to work of Camp Columbia, Thetis Island, said 400 campers were expected this summer.

Mr. J. Bullock gave several vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. R. Willis. Refreshments were served by members of the Evening Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons have three sons and Mr. and Mrs. Holt a daughter in Calgary and two sons, Ralph and Gilbert in Victoria.

The weddings were solemnized by Rev. J. A. Wood of Victoria West Methodist Church.

At the close of her address Miss Miller was presented with an afghan made by a former resident of Edmonton.

Easter Colors, Gay Flowers At Spring Fashion Show

Cleverly transformed into a fashion salon for showing of spring styles, the A. K. Love store, 709 View Street, was crowded to capacity Tuesday evening as Solarium Junior League members paraded in the colorful new clothes.

Spring was in the air and Easter colors and gay flowers were the motif. Background was the music played by Mrs. Norma Wragg.

President of the league, Mrs. V. E. Fraser, opened the show and Mrs. Howard Damask was commentator. All proceeds of the entertainment go to Solarium Junior League, who sponsored the show.

One outstanding wool fur-laine coat, in wild lime, shown by Miss Joan Hodges, featured a shawl back with clever stitching on yoke, collar and cuffs. This was strikingly contrasted with a spring bonnet and gloves in angelic pink.

Committee member Miss Ann Armstrong displayed a royal-purple worsted skirt and a nylon blouse of palest pink, perfect with her Titian hair.

Miss Velma Brown, convenor, modeled a full-length coat, styled like a little boy's coat, which appeared recently in Vogue magazine.

This pastel yellow fleece was completed with six oversize pearl buttons and a belt at the back.

A sport suit that was greatly admired was worn by Miss Gracia Carlisle, also a committee member. This suit in the blue and brown Hunting Fraser, featured the miniature tartan in an all-round perpetually pleated skirt, single-breasted jacket, notched lapels and patch pockets.

Modeled for the slim and trim by Miss Patricia Jones, was the smart fitted English tweed coat

Rummage Sale—At a recent meeting, the Order of Royal Purple Auxiliary, BPOE, made final plans for a rummage sale on Saturday in Hard-of-Hearing Hall, at 9 a.m. Members may leave goods at Elks' Home or bring them to the hall Friday at 7:30 p.m. Donations of $25 to the Solarium and $10 to Flood relief were voted.

An Offering—Instead of the usual St. Patrick's supper, it was decided at meeting of Fairfield United Church Women's Auxiliary to have a free-will offering among members and to hold an Easter tea during Easter week. Mrs. T. R. Handyside presided and Mrs. W. E. Clothier took devotions. The Treasurer reported a sum of $77 cleared at a tea held in the home of Mrs. B. C. Bracewell.

For Children—Plans were made to hold an Easter party for children of the Protestant Orphanage, at meeting of the Junior Auxiliary, held in Memorial Hall. Mrs. Lorna Barnes and Mrs. Mavis Sturdy were named conveners. Mrs. Anna Belle Phipps and Mrs. Sturdy will convene a rummage sale in the old Colonist building, Broad Street, on March 25, at 8 a.m., and a social meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Diana Littlewood, 3201 Richmond Road, on March 17.

Chapter to Mark City's Birthday

Mrs. F. Parsons was appointed convener of a bridge tea to be held by Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter IODE, at the YWCA on Saturday. The tea will commemorate the 100th birthday of the City of Victoria.

Mrs. Swire Mitchell was named honorary regent and Mrs. L. M. Bumpus, honorary vice-regent. The following councillors were elected: Mesdames H. Goodfellow, I. Dodsworth, S. M. Leigh and D. P. Farthing. Conveners are Mrs. Parsons, world affairs; Mrs. D. C. F. MacArthur, services at home and abroad; Mrs. F. Dodsworth, press; Mrs. Goodfellow, social; Mrs. G. A. Vanwright, membership; Mrs. F. Smith, films; Mrs. S. M. Leigh, hospital; Mrs. Roy Brain, tea. Mrs. L. R. Brain was welcomed as a new member.

X-Ray Unit—At meeting of Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute, it was announced that the mobile TB Chest X-ray unit would operate in dining room of Sooke Hall from 1 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., March 27. Donations were made as follows: $25 to relief of women's institutes in flooded areas of England and Holland; $50 to Sooke Harbor Cemetery Board to assist in landscaping the Saseenos Cemetery.

The group endorsed sending of $750 from women's institutes of British Columbia, for European flood relief. A handcraft demonstration and display will be held during afternoon and evening of April 17 in Sooke Community Hall.

New Members Join Britannia Lodge

First initiation of the year in Britannia Lodge No. 216, LOBA, saw six candidates inducted. Mesdames E. Spraggatt, J. Muir, H. Crawford, H. McCloughney, M. Martin and Miss R. Allan.

Worthy Mistress R. Duplain was in the chair and a solo, "It Is No Secret," was sung by Mrs. G. Gunn, Purple Star Lodge, by special request.

Guests included Worthy Mistress E. King and members of Purple Star Lodge and J. Johnson, Edmonton. Refreshments were served under convenership of Mrs. A. Saunders and Mrs. V. Ellwood.

It was decided that the social meeting on March 17 will be in the form of an Irish tea for the bazaar. Arrangements are in charge of program convener Mrs. I. McAllister.

OUT OUR WAY

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Treatments May Relieve Pain Of Bursitis; Recovery Likely

Mrs. B. writes, "My mother fell under the switch engine? ... But I doubt if he'll last till you reach a hospital!"

Heard... It looks that way fell a tough in?

Get... pencil paper.

How can ya get so dirty just playin' ball? Get in there an take a bath!

I ain't heard th' water runnin'... Hey, Cicerio! An' I'm in th' tub!

Sure! Come an see for yourself!

Probly find somethin' kind'a soreness, all along. Here now's you been used to that high-powered twentieth-century!

Oh, now I wouldn't say that... I think I'd better get outta these wet duds.

THERE! That's more like it!

I recall it from when I used to be me—let's first well need some dehydrated essence of gezelles feathers.

It's in the pantry—I'll get it for you.

Well, y'know how it is with us important people, we just gotta stay on th' job!

PROBABLY FIND SOMETHIN' KIND'A SORENESS, ALL ALONG. HERE NOW'S YOU BEEN USED TO THAT HIGH-POWERED TWENTIETH-CENTURY!

OH, OH! YOU BETTER GET OUTTA THESE WET DUDS.

Hmm... I think I'd better send for my grandpa!

THAT'S MORE LIKE IT!

IT'S IN THE PANTRY—I'LL GET IT FOR YOU.

of any small pocket lined by delicate tissue which lies near one of the movable joints of the body. These pockets are called bursas. Typical ones and ones says, "I was disappointed that rather liable to inflammation you did not speak of the stiffness that occurs. I do not suffer pain any longer, but the shoulder is still quite stiff, and I am wondering if there is danger of this becoming permanent."

In this way, one by one, come letters from victims of that painful condition known as bursitis.

Before discussing again

the nature of bursitis, a word

might be said in answer to G.H.'s question about the stiffness.

The fact that the pain has gone is a favorable sign, and, in all probability, cautious increase in activity, perhaps joined by treatment with physiotherapy, would bring a gradual lessening of the stiffness.

True bursitis is an inflammation of the bursa lined by delicate tissue which lies near one of the movable joints of the body. These pockets are called bursas. Typical ones and ones says, "I was disappointed that rather liable to inflammation

you did not speak of the stiffness that occurs. I do not suffer pain any longer, but the shoulder is still quite stiff, and I am wondering if there is danger of this becoming permanent."

An attack of bursitis is likely to start suddenly. When it does,

the involved bursa or cavity is likely to be swollen and often contains a fluid. Pain is usually quite severe and the area is also likely to be tender to touch.

When the limb is moved the pain frequently becomes exacerbating.

Either a single severe injury or lesser repeated injuries are common causes of bursitis.

Kneeling for a long time is likely to affect the bursa just above the knee, and this condition frequently goes under the name,

"housemaid's knee." For similar reasons the bursa around the elbow is involved in "tennis elbow."

Sometimes no definite injury can be remembered.

The treatment for an inflamed bursa depends partly on the degree and type of inflammation.

In the more acute conditions, complete rest by means of a splint, bandage or cast is generally needed.

FLUID IS REMOVED

In those cases in which the swelling is great and the pressure causes considerable pain, some of the excess fluid may be removed. Since the fluid is generally needed to return, such removal may cause the limb to become weak and stay healthy.

They were back Steadman and Henry Patzack, both of Wishard Road, Langford, and

Mrs. Helen Thompson, Latoria

Road.

After many warnings that

1953 dog licenses have been due since the start of the year, RCMP

constables are "ticketing"

all owners of dogs on the loose without valid license tags.

John David Paterson, 231

Niagara Street, Victoria, was fined $200 on a charge of driving while his ability was impaired

by alcohol. He appeared, in

RCMP court at Colwood Tuesday afternoon.

Magistrate A. L. Thomas also imposed $6.50 costs and restricted Paterson to driving for business purposes only for six months. Paterson had stressed the need for his vehicle to maintain a livelihood. Charge arose

after Paterson had been involved in a minor accident on the Island

Highway Monday night.

Mr. Paterson, 31, had been driving his car on the Island

Highway when he was stopped by a constable who found him

driving while under the influence of alcohol. Paterson was given a choice of $200 or 30 days in jail.

Paterson chose the fine.

RCMP Commissioner G. E. Mc-

Curdy said Paterson had been

driving while under the influence of alcohol for some time past.

What's New
at Eaton's

These hats will never spend any time in a hat box . . .
they're like a good camel hair coat or a nice suit they can go driving in the country or to Church on Sunday looking as if they were made just for you.
And, like any good design
they are the simplest possible, with ingenuity in the fabric used, the colour, or the way they can be manipulated about into new shapes for daytime or night time wear. Best of all, not one of these hats is over $2.00, that's sound fashion investment for anybody's money!

The "Traveller"

Called that because you can squash it into a crammed suitcase . . . push it into the most unlikely shapes and it will still emerge . . . such little cloche to wear with everything short of a cocktail dress. This is all by way of its fabric which is ribbon crocheted in Capri colours of yellow, pink, red, pale green, blue and white.
Each 4.95

It's easy to look pert in the rain when you're wearing this bright little hat! It is made of "Tanisheen" with a "Unise" finish that sheds water, resists wrinkling and soiling . . . all that and it has great fashion-appeal too! Comes in a rocker shape, grey and navy blue with a charming navy face veil that ties at the back.
Each 6.95

Row upon row of ribbon
shape this pull-on hat has a special talent for adjusting to virtually any occasion, by merely pushing and pulling it into shape, by the addition of a jewel, flower or medallion trim you've got a headlining hat for any date!
Each 6.95

In this case it is a hat, but what a hat! Designed in keeping with the great Coronation influence this Spring, it has a new regal air in the way it sits high on your head, in the small sweep of felt-flower trimming with tiny "Jewels."
Wool felt in a pale Princess blue, complemented with a soft complexion veil. 5.95

Canadian Wheat for India Via Victoria

Strike of mainland grain workers will not hinder wheat movement through the elevator at Ogden Point, according to a spokesman for Grain Elevator Workers' Union (CIO) in Vancouver. As first wheat in 11 years poured into Mv. Trelyon today, the union stated that it would not declare grain shipped from Vancouver to Victoria as "hot." Wheat now moving here was scheduled for Ogden Point before the strike, and Victoria's elevator is expected to handle up to 6,000,000 bushels a year. Trelyon is bound for Calcutta with full cargo.

Saskatchewan Insurance Agent Says Fines Got Commissions

REGINA (CP)—A categorical denial of charges contained in an affidavit sworn by Joseph Rawlik, former government insurance office agent, was made in the legislature committee on crown corporations Tuesday night by Provincial Treasurer Fines and general manager M. F. Allore of the Saskatchewan government insurance office.

The affidavit alleged that Mr. Fines and Mr. Allore had been paid a share of the commissions on business Mr. Allore directed through Mr. Rawlik's firm, Financial Agencies Ltd.

Mr. Fines asked the committee to swear him in as a witness "in order to clear myself of the charges." He branded the affidavit as "a frantic fairy tale," adding that it was "absolutely false, a tissue of lies."

B.C. Appeals Rates Order

British Columbia will launch a formal appeal to the federal cabinet against the 7 per cent railroad freight rate increase awarded Monday by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner announced today the province's special freight-rates counsel C. W. Brazier, QC, has been instructed to prepare the appeal.

Mr. Bonner himself, probably will accompany Mr. Brazier to Ottawa for the appeal. No date has been set by the federal government.

The attorney-general said western provinces are expected to join forces with B.C.

Mr. Bonner considered the 7 per cent boost, effective March 16, a "most unjust imposition on B.C." especially in view of the fact a hearing on equalization, which the province has sought for 45 years, is pending.

He expected B.C. will get

"some relief" as a result of the equalization hearings.

The government's move followed Premier Bennett's Tuesday request for suspension of the new increases, or their payment by the federal government until the equalization hearings have been completed.

The request was sent by wife to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

MAN! DIG THAT HOPPED-UP CORN

You're a King-Sized Square If You're Not Hep to Webster

Gy H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Nuts ("exclamation of disgust, scorn") to you, you jerk ("person regarded as stupid, dull, eccentric")!

Let's not get into a hassel ("heated discussion, squabble") about this, but you're a king size ("greater than normal size") square ("old-fashioned, unsophisticated") if you don't dig ("understand, comprehend") the latest in American English.

Man ("exclamation of pleasure, surprise") what a hopped up ("supercharged") language.

This is perfectly O.K. English. That is, it will be after March 23 if you want to take the word—the slang word—of the latest "Webster's" dictionary, which comes out then. "O.K." is O.K. too. It's entered in the word list, without being labeled even slang or colloquial. It's O.K. as an adjective, adverb, interjection, noun or verb.

Whether or not you agree that some of the foregoing words belong in the dictionary, or in the language, you might as well face the fact that they are with us. It's a fact that had to be faced by Nazi Field Marshal Karl Gerhard Rundstedt on Dec. 22, 1944.

NUTS'

When the Germans demanded that the Americans surrounded at Bastogne surrender, Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, head of the dictionary department of the World Publishing Company of Cleveland, and general editor of the new dictionary, said in an interview that the including of slang words came down to "a matter of personal choice."

"We kept a citation file of words going all the time," he said, "and when there was a question about whether to include one, we got our staff together and fought it out hammer and tongs."

LABLED SLANG

Most of the flavorful terms which have been cited in this dispatch are carefully labeled as slang or colloquial in the new dictionary. David B. Guralnik, head of the dictionary department of the World Publishing Company of Cleveland, and general editor of the new dictionary, said in an interview that the including of slang words came down to "a matter of personal choice."

"We kept a citation file of words going all the time," he said, "and when there was a question about whether to include one, we got our staff together and fought it out hammer and tongs."

28 SAVED
AFTER SHIP
EXPLODES

Captain, Wife
Among Missing

HALIFAX (CP)—At least eight persons, including a woman, are missing in the Atlantic following fire and explosion aboard the oil tanker Angy south of Newfoundland.

The Angy was registered out of Monrovia, Liberia, and was operated by a Greek firm. She carried a crew of varied nationalities.

Search and rescue here said today the merchant ship Clairborne took aboard 28 other crew members, but said the captain, his wife, all mates, radio operator and three seamen are still missing.

The message did not say how many mates the Angy carried but officials here said she would probably carry three.

EXPLODED

The tanker caught fire and exploded 350 miles south of Newfoundland three days ago.

The Clairborne was the first rescue vessel to reach her side and took survivors aboard at about 8 a.m. today.

The Clairborne said the forepart of the tanker had broken away and it was believed that the missing men might have been aboard the section.

The Clairborne said she was heading for Cherbourg, France.

Labor MP Barred

LONDON (AP)—Sydney Silverman, leftist Labor member of Parliament, has been refused an American visa under the McCarran Immigration Act. Silverman said he had been invited to be a guest speaker at a dinner March 18 in New York in connection with a campaign for clemency in the case of the convicted atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg.

$1,000,000 FIRE
IN HALIFAX
SHIPIARDS

HALIFAX (CP)—Fire destroyed the sprawling machine shop of Halifax Shipyards in the city's north end today, causing an estimated $1,000,000 damage and threatening to throw the yard's heavy ship repair schedule out of kilter.

General Superintendent Daniel Scouler set the damage estimate after first reports placed it as high as $2,000,000. He said, however, that only a complete investigation will set the exact loss.

Mr. Scouler said work on two navy sub-chasers now being constructed at the yard will be only temporarily affected.

But he added: "We have a lot of ships scheduled here for repairs and refit and all this work will be tremendously affected by the loss of the shop."

R. J. Nelson, vice-president and general manager of the privately-owned shipyards, the city's largest industry, said the more than 200 machine workers employed at the demolished plant will be temporarily placed in other jobs in the yard.

There was no indication of how the blaze started, but Mr. Scouler said it began at the south end of the 400x100-foot one-story building and the whole structure was engulfed "within five minutes."

Thirty men were working the overnight shift at the time. Some of them reported fighting the initial outbreak in a hose tower with fire extinguishers, then having to flee when the flames began to spread.

Two ships were tied up at a nearby wharf, but firemen succeeded in confining the fire to the machine shop. The Halifax fire department and a navy craft fought the blaze.

Officials were unable to explain the slackening off.

300 Construction Men
Quit; 1,100 May Follow

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP)—Three hundred workers at a $9,000,000 fertilizer plant under construction here are on strike today and a sympathy walkout is threatened by 1,100 union men at the $30,000,000 Waneta power project near Trail.

The union claims the company interpretation is: "At the company's convenience, or in serious illness, or when no longer require our services."

There was no comment from company officials.

The fertilizer and power plants are under construction for Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company Ltd.

FINAL ★★ BULLETINS

13 Killed in Brewery Blaze

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Fire which sent up waves of smoke through an Anheuser-Busch brewery building today killed 13 men trapped in a nest of fermentation tanks.

Authorities said possibly one more workman had perished in the blaze at the $20,000,000 plant.

Thirteen bodies had been recovered after firemen fought the blaze for more than three hours.

Refugee Flow 'Slows' to 1,700

BERLIN (AP)—A noticeable drop in the daily refugee flow from the Soviet zone was recorded today in West Berlin.

Refugee headquarters recorded 1,700 East Germans asking for asylum, considerably below the average maintained for several weeks. The new arrivals brought March's total to 22,788.

Births totalled 395,024, an increase of 15,612 over 1952, the previous record year, and 23,953 more than in 1950.

Officials were unable to explain the slackening off.

Birthrate Sets Another Record

OTTAWA (CP)—For the fourth successive year a record number of babies were born in Canada during 1952, advancing the birthrate to the highest level in five years and the second highest since 1922, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Births totalled 395,024, an increase of 15,612 over 1952, the previous record year, and 23,953 more than in 1950.

At one point, Tom Johnston, Legislator Speaker, said the integrity of the government and the Legislature was at stake because of that one or two men.

Also named in the affidavit were Dr. M. C. Schumatcher, one-time secretary to Financial Agencies Ltd.

Mr. Fines asked the committee to swear him in as a witness "in order to clear myself of the charges." He branded the affidavit as "a frantic fairy tale," adding that it was "absolutely false, a tissue of lies."

Mr. Allore also appeared as a witness and denied charges against him. He denied receiving money from Mr. Rawluk's firm and said he had never discussed the question of commission with any members of the firm.
